I have worked in the behavioral healthcare field since 1996, and in South Florida, since 1999. I have dedicated my life and career to working in our community; helping others lead more fulfilling and productive lives.

My professional experience includes community behavioral healthcare, traditional psychotherapy, coaching, substance abuse treatment & prevention, program leadership, consulting, and clinical supervision. I teach at a local college and also serve the community by offering presentations, trainings, and workshops.

In addition, I work closely with many non-profit agencies in areas of strategic planning, grant management, program development, evaluation, and implementation of quality assurance strategies.
